

Rules of Play

- Riverboat Roulette allows players to play the traditional version of roulette while adding the option of making multi-spin wagers on any of six predetermined colored neighborhoods on the roulette wheel.
- Players may wager on any or all of the colored neighborhoods and also on the single-spin white neighborhood.
- All colored neighborhoods are offered as multi-spin wagers and pay odds on winning outcomes.
- White neighborhood bets are single-spin wagers, pay odds on winning wagers, and lose on all other outcomes not resulting in the white neighborhood.
- Non-winning colored neighborhood wagers push and only lose when the outcome results in the white neighborhood -- creating a "multiple-spin" version of roulette.

The material included in this PDF document constitutes a 'fair use' of any copyrighted material as provided for in Section 107 of the U.S. Copyright law which allows for education, teaching (including multiple copies for classroom use), scholarship, or research and is not deemed an infringement of copyright in the eyes of the law.

§ 107 . Limitations on exclusive rights: Fair use⁴⁰

Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 106 and 106A, the fair use of a copyrighted work, including such use by reproduction in copies or phonorecords or by any other means specified by that section, for purposes such as criticism, comment, news reporting, teaching (including multiple copies for classroom use), scholarship, or research, is not an infringement of copyright. In determining whether the use made of a work in any particular case is a fair use the factors to be considered shall include—

- (1) the purpose and character of the use, including whether such use is of a commercial nature or is for nonprofit educational purposes;
- (2) the nature of the copyrighted work;
- (3) the amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole; and
- (4) the effect of the use upon the potential market for or value of the copyrighted work.

The fact that a work is unpublished shall not itself bar a finding of fair use if such finding is made upon consideration of all the above factors.
